

I am writing this in response to information that I have received about consideration of changing the rules relating to LPFM. I understand that the change in this rule would likely result in many FM translators being forced off of the air. Since, in many cases, this would involve the translators used by K-LOVE Christian radio I must voice my opposition to this ruling.

I listen to K-LOVE on 88.5, 98.3 and 92.1 in the area where I reside. It is the ONLY radio station my family and I listen to. It is a constant source of inspiration and encouragement in the trails of our daily lives. It provides not only uplifting music that the entire family enjoys, but news, weather, commentary on important topics and local event announcements.

The most significant impact on our community would be in relation to our youth.

The environment that our youth are exposed to daily is saturated with music. Much of which is in no way edifying to them or our society. The music that is played on K-LOVE is of a contemporary format which attracts many young listeners as well as the older generation. I personally would much rather hear my children and grandchildren singing along with songs of praise to our Lord, than songs about "drugs" and "killing cops". Songs that use words that, I'm fairly sure, none of you would want spoken in the presence of your children or grandchildren.

I believe that causing K-LOVE, and stations like, it to be knocked off of the FM translators through which they reach many of our communities would in no way be in the public interest.

Thank

you,

Carlton W. Fitzgerald
